

Indigenous Futures Cluster Presents

Red Man Laughing

Reflections on Reconciliation

Ryan McMahon

This presentation shares the discoveries, stories and challenges of the groundbreaking fifth season of Ryan McMahon's celebrated podcast Red Man Laughing. Ryan brings audiences behind the scenes and into the world of the show with an in-depth and challenging analysis of the reconciliation movement in Canada today. The show's fifth season has set the bar high in terms of the ways independent or mainstream media can and should respond to the calls for reconciliation.

Indigenous Futures Cluster Presents is the public event arm of the Indigenous Futures Cluster (IFC) at the Milieux Institute for Art, Culture, and Technology. The IFC explores how Indigenous people are imagining the future of their families and communities. We are interested in narratives, frameworks, and technologies that help us articulate a continuum between our histories, our present, and the seventh generation and beyond. We take a research-creation approach to these issues, employing art- and technology-making coupled with scholarly analysis and conceptual development to illuminate how the challenges of the present can be addressed, in part, through concrete, constructive, and critical dreams of the future. IFC Presents is our ongoing series of talks, performances, exhibitions, and other public engagement activities.

FRIDAY

6:30PM

APR 6 2018

Milieux Resource Centre – Concordia University
EV Building (Engineering And Visual Arts) 11.705
1515 Saint-Catherine Street West
Montreal, QC H3G 2W1

Social Sciences and Humanities
Research Council of Canada

Conseil de recherches en sciences humaines du Canada

